1. Give your impression by means of a drawing.

2. Describe and explain your drawing: (about 80 words)

This is a photo of Adolf Hitler when he was in jail, which is also the cover of the book. He is looking straight ahead with a serious expression on his face. You can see not only the determination of revitalizing Germany but also the hatred if the minority races through his eyes. The right hand side of the drawing is a symbol of the Nazi Party which is called swastika. It was used in Buddhism originally but it was used by the Nazi Party in the 1930s. Therefore, it became a symbol of violence and hatred in the western countries.

3. Comment and Sharing: (about 100 words)

This book is divided into two volumes. In the first volume, Hitler described his life and experienced the political situation in Germany and his beliefs about the superiority of the Aryan race. He also outlined his view for the future of Germany.

In the second volume, he detailed his plan for the Nazi Party and the actions he believed were necessary to achieve his goals. He described his hatred for Jews and other minority groups and his belief in the need for a final solution to the 'Jewish problem'.

In conclusion, 'Mein Kampf' is an important historical document and it is also a book which promotes hateful and dangerous ideologies. It is important to understand the history on text in which it was written and to study it as a cautionary tales about the dangers of extremism and propaganda. It is crucial to condemn the actions of Hitler and the Nazi Party and to work towards a world that is free from the discrimination and violence.
