1. Give your impression by means of a drawing.

2. Describe and explain your drawing: (about 80 words)

This drawing shows the Namiya General Store. All the stories in this book took place in this store. In the store, people can unlock the doubts in their hearts by the old man Namiya. He always answered people's troubles patiently. A person with troubles just lost his way for a while. A person without a destination may be confused, but his journey has infinite possibilities.

3. Comment and Sharing: (about 100 words)

The beginning of the story is about three robbers who entered the Namiya General Store by a mistake, and found that they could reply to the past letters, so they began to write letters to the people who sent letters to solve their worries. This is a kind of happy redemption. After helping others, our hearts get some relief. And the carrier of this redemption is love. It can warm others while warming itself. Just like what he said 'the beauty of white paper is that you can describe your life map as you like, and you have an unlimited future. Although someone may give us some suggestions for our problems, we still need to think and choose the way we like.
